Concept Note and Agenda

17 August 2021

BACKGROUND

The General Assembly, through its resolution 74/225, invited the Secretary-General, with the support of the relevant United Nations system entities, to convene a high-level dialogue in 2021 to promote the implementation of the energy-related goals and targets of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development in support of the implementation of the United Nations Decade of Sustainable Energy for All (2014–2024) and the Paris Agreement.

The High-level Dialogue on Energy, to be held in September 2021, represents the first global gathering on energy under the auspices of the United Nations General Assembly since 1981. It provides a historic opportunity to drive energy transformation in the first years of the SDG Decade of Action and support the implementation of the Paris Agreement.

The Dialogue calls for concrete actions to further accelerate the implementation of Sustainable Development Goal 7 in support of the 2030 Agenda and the Paris Agreement. Moreover, it is expected that the Dialogue will also feature additional voluntary commitments, including 'Energy Compacts', by Member States and non-state actors such as companies, sub-national authorities and other stakeholders.

As part of the preparatory process for the High-level Dialogue on Energy, this Deep-dive Stakeholders Workshop will explore opportunities for catalyzing action in the areas of Energy Access, Energy Transition, and Enabling SDGs through just and inclusive energy transitions towards advancing SDG7 by 2030 and net-zero emissions by 2050.

This session will include a detailed presentation on the Energy Compacts, give the voice to some stakeholders showcasing their experiences and lessons learned towards the implementation of the SDG 7, followed by a Q&A session to explore the process of creating and registering an Energy Compact towards the High-level Dialogue on Energy in contribution to SDG 7 and net-zero emissions.
