Jessie Turner, Secretariat for the International Alliance to Combat Ocean Acidification

Through her position at Cascadia Policy Solutions, Jessie is Secretariat for the International Alliance to Combat Ocean Acidification. She helps to set its strategic direction, develop annual programming, establish partnerships across a wide variety of disciplines and coalitions, and support members in the development of practicable OA adaptation and resilience strategies.

Jessie is also a facilitator to the Pacific Coast Collaborative (PCC)’s Ocean Acidification and Hypoxia Working Group. The PCC is a collaboration between the states of California, Oregon, Washington and the Province of British Columbia in Canada working together on climate and energy issues that impact the North American West Coast region.

She has over 10 years of experience working in public policy development, advocacy, and stakeholder engagement at local and international scales. In this time, Jessie has worked a multitude of issues including affordable homeownership, healthcare, energy efficiency, climate and marine policy.
