To that end, AIDA led the side event “Water for Nature, Nature for Water: Integrated Policy Solutions and Commitments for Sustainable Development and the Conservation, Restoration and Management of Freshwater Biodiversity”, along with a number of organizations, coalitions, academic institutions, and governments, at the UN Water Conference.

AIDA has also partnered with the Environmental Law Institute (ELI) and the IUCN World Commission on Environmental Law (WCEL) to submit as a commitment to the Water Action Agenda our work on the Manifesto for National Integrated Legal Frameworks for Water Resources Governance.

The rule of law is a key tool at our disposal to build a better world and a shared future, leaving no one behind and in harmony with nature.
