Dr. Lan Xue is a Distinguished Professor of Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences and the Dean of Schwarzman College at Tsinghua University. His teaching and research interests include science, technology and innovation (STI) policy, AI governance, crisis management, and global governance. He has published extensively in these areas.

At Tsinghua university, Dr. Xue also serves as the Director of Institute for AI International Governance, Director of China Institute for S&T Policy, Co-Director of Institute for SDGs, and so on. From 2000-2018, he served as Associate Dean, Executive Associate Dean, and Dean of the School of Public Policy and Management at Tsinghua University.

Dr. Xue also serves as Counsellor of the State Council of China, Co-Convener of the Discipline Evaluation Group Public Administration of the Academic Degrees Committee of the State Council, Chair of the National Expert Committee on the Governance of Next Generation of AI, and a member of the Standing Committee of Chinese Association of Science and Technology. He is also an adjunct professor at Carnegie Mellon University, a Non-Resident Senior Fellow of the Brookings Institution, a board member of the UN Sustainable Development Solution Network (SDSN), a member of the Committee of the Experts on Public Administration (CEPA) and the inaugural Internet Governance Forum (IGF) Leadership Panel. Dr.

PROF. XUE LAN
DISTINGUISHED PROFESSOR OF ARTS, HUMANITIES AND SOCIAL SCIENCES,
DEAN OF SCHWARZMAN COLLEGE,
JOINT CHAIRPERSON OF THE ACADEMIC COMMITTEE OF THE CENTER FOR INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT AND ENVIRONMENTAL GOVERNANCE, TSINGHUA UNIVERSITY
Xue is a recipient of Distinguished Young Scholar Award from National Natural Science Foundation of China (NSFC), Cheung Kong Chair Distinguished Professor of the Ministry of Education, the Fudan Distinguished Contribution Award for Management Science, the Distinguished Contribution Award from Chinese Association for Science of Science and S&T Policy, and the Second National Award for Excellence in Innovation.

September, 2023
Mr. Li Zhenguo, the founder of LONGi Green Energy Technology Co., Ltd. (Stock Name: LONGi Green Energy, Ticker Symbol: 601012), president of LONGi Green Energy, and the sponsor of LONGI One Percent Foundation of RCSC.

Mr. Li Zhenguo majored in semiconductor materials from the Department of Physics and graduated from Lanzhou University in 1990. In 2004, he received his MBA diploma from Xi'an Jiaotong University. In February 2000, he founded LONGi Green Energy Technology Co., Ltd. (formerly known as Xi'an Xinmeng Electronic Technology Co., Ltd.), and then successively worked as chairman of Xi'an LONGi Silicon Materials Corp. and president of LONGi Green Energy Technology Co., Ltd.

Mr. Li Zhenguo is a renowned expert in the transverse magnetic field regarding monocrystalline and has studied mono silicon and engaged in related product development for many years. The decarbonizing technology developed by him has been widely used in the industry, and his research was financed by the national innovation fund for science and technology.

Mr. Li Zhenguo has won the following honors and titles:
- 2016 “Innovator of China's Energy Industry”
- 2018 “Forbes Top 50 CEO of China's Listed Companies”
- 2019 “Best CEO of China's Listed Companies”
- 2020 “Top 10 China Economic Person of the Year”
- 2021 “Forbes Best CEO in China”
- 2021 “Global Top 10 Outstanding Leaders of Shaanxi Entrepreneurs”
- 2021 “Forbes Charity List in China”
- 2022 “Top 50 of China's Most Influential Business Leaders”

September, 2023
Mr. Wu Yonghua is Executive Director of Board and the Co-CEO of Anta Group. He has been deeply involved in the sporting goods industry and has more than 20 years of experience in sales and brand management in the Chinese market.

Mr. Wu Yonghua joined the company in October 2003 and has served successively as Corporate Sales VP and CEO of Anta brand. Under his leadership, Anta has grown into the largest Chinese sportswear brand, and secured its place on BrandZ’s Most Valuable Global Apparel Brands Top 10 list in 2021 and 2022, and on Brand Finance’s Most Valuable Apparel Brands Top 50 list for four consecutive years.

Mr. Wu Yonghua holds a Master’s degree from Beijing Jiaotong University. He also joins the CEO program of Cheung Kong Graduate School of Business.

Anta Group is the largest sportswear company in China. The group was established in 1991 and listed on the Main Board of HKEx in 2007. On top of Anta, it also operates Fila, Descente and Kolon Sport in Greater China Region. In 2019, Anta Group, together with an investor consortium successfully acquired Amer Sports, a Finland-based sportswear group which owns brands including Arc'teryx, Salomon and Wilson. The company attaches great importance to philanthropy. So far, Anta Group and Hemin Foundation (the founders’ family foundation) have made cash and in-kind donation with total value of more than RMB2.2 billion.

September, 2023
MS. ZHAO YAN
PRESIDENT & GENERAL MANAGER, BLOOMAGE BIOTECH

➢ As the president and general manager of Bloomage Biotechnology Corporation Limited, Ms. Zhao Yan started to engage in the field of microbial fermentation and decided to invest in Bloomage Biotech in 2000. Under Zhao’s leadership, Bloomage Biotech has realized the large-scale production and industrial application of hyaluronic acid fermentation, and becomes a leading biotechnology company and biomaterial company in the world. With worldride top-ranking industrialization scale of hyaluronic acid, Bloomage Biotech is engaged in the development, production and application of bioactive substances that are conducive to life and health, including functional sugars, proteins, polypeptides, amino acids, nucleotides, and natural active compounds.

➢ Meanwhile, Ms. Zhao serves as founder and president of Bloomage International Investment Group, that is a conglomerate involved in the investment activities, business operations and real economy development.

➢ Being passionate about art and charity, Ms. Zhao founded the non-governmental Beijing Times Art Museum and launched Bloomage Yunzhong programs, aiming to provide support for the young artists who are interested in the original ecology culture in China.

➢ Ms. Zhao has created the Bloomage’s way of making contributions and paying back to the society. In the past three years, she was appraised as one of the Most Outstanding Businesswomen in China by Forbes, and named “2021 China Economic Person of the Year” and “China's 100 Outstanding Women in Business”.

➢ Ms. Zhao Yan graduated from East China Normal University with a bachelor’s degree in 1986, and did her Master of Business Administration degree in Fordham University in 2002.
Ms. Judy Fong-Yee TU, aged 47, is an executive director, a vice president and the company secretary of the Company. She joined Feihe HLJ in October 2006 and has been a vice president of Feihe HLJ since then. She has been a Director and a vice president of the Company since June 2013, and was appointed as a joint company secretary of the Company in July 2017. She was re-designated as an executive Director in April 2017, and has been serving as the sole company secretary of the Company since 15 November 2022.

Ms. Tu has been a director of Vitamin World USA since June 2018. Ms. Tu has been extensively involved in the international business development and capital market matters of the Group, including the listing of Flying Crane U.S. on the NYSE in 2009, the FCUS Privatization in 2013, the establishment of Feihe Nutrition Laboratory with Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center of Harvard Medical School in 2014, the Group’s expansion in Canada in 2015, the acquisition of the retail health care business of Vitamin World in 2018, and the listing of the Company on the Stock Exchange in 2019.

Ms. Tu obtained a bachelor’s degree of arts in mass communications and political science with a minor in Asian studies from the University of California, Berkeley in the United States in May 1999, and a Juris Doctor degree from Loyola Law School in the United States in May 2006. She was admitted to the State Bar of California in December 2006 and is a licensed attorney in the State of California, the United States.

September, 2023
➢ Chen Zidan currently serves as the Chief Sustainability Officer at Shanghai M&G Stationery Inc., where she leads the company’s initiation and implementation of sustainable development strategies.

➢ Under her leadership, M&G Stationery, one of the world's largest stationery manufacturers, formulated its first five-year sustainable development strategy in 2021, with the vision of "writing a sustainable business future." The company focuses on four pillars: sustainable products, response to climate change, sustainable supply chain, and empowering employees and communities to lead in the industry's sustainable development.

➢ Ms. Chen has been invited to participate in conferences such as the Hainan Consumer Goods Expo, APEC Women's Leadership Forum, and Carbon Neutrality Expo in China to share her company's sustainable practices. She is committed to addressing climate change, promoting circular economy, and advocating for low-carbon emission and plastic reduction, striving to achieving sustainable development in both social and business impact.

➢ Ms. Chen graduated from Babson College in the United States, majoring in strategic management. She also acts as Impact Officer of Global Shapers Community Shanghai I Hub.

September, 2023
Prof. Chen Ling is an Associate Professor in the School of Public Administration & Public Policy at Tsinghua University. She is also the Director of the Center for Industrial Development and Environmental Governance (CIDEG) of Tsinghua University. She received her Ph.D. in Public Management from Tsinghua University in 2005.

Prof. Chen Ling’s research interests lie in science and technology policies, industrial innovation policies, climate change policy, and policy process studies. In recent years, prof. Chen Ling focuses on the technology trajectory and industrial policies of several key industries, including high-speed rail, nuclear power, 5G, artificial intelligence, new energy vehicles, aero engines, integrated circuits, and other industries and technologies.

Prof. Chen Ling has also conducted research on digital innovation ecological networks, industrial digitization, and new R&D institutions. She teaches a range of PhD level and Masters-level course such as “Public Policy II,” “Industrial Development, Innovation, and Regulation,” and “Qualitative Research Methods.” She is the author of Institutions, Elites and Consensus: An Explanation Framework in the Chinese Policy Process, Towards Carbon-neutrality: Targets, Paths, and Actions, Mapping Global Science and Technology Innovation Hubs: Matrix, Methods and Results and other academic monographs and has published more than 40 articles in English and Chinese in outlets such as Nature, Research Policy, Journal of Contemporary China, Journal of Management World, and others.
Prof. Chen Ling and her research team have worked closely with the Nature Research to jointly release the “Global Innovation Hubs Index (GIHI)” for two years at Zhongguancun Forum and Nature’s official website. This research has set up an evaluation index system in three dimensions: science research, innovation economy, and innovation ecosystem, ranking and analyzing the primary global science and technology innovation hubs. The GIHI results have received widespread attention from the society and academia.

September, 2023
Prof. Jeffrey D. Sachs is a world-renowned economics professor, bestselling author, innovative educator, and global leader in sustainable development. He is widely recognized for bold and effective strategies to address complex challenges including debt crises, hyperinflations, the transition from central planning to market economies, the control of AIDS, malaria, and other diseases, the escape from extreme poverty, and the battle against human-induced climate change.

Prof. Sachs serves as the Director of the Center for Sustainable Development at Columbia University, where he holds the rank of University Professor, the university’s highest academic rank. Sachs held the position of Director of the Earth Institute at Columbia University from 2002 to 2016. He is President of the UN Sustainable Development Solutions Network, a commissioner of the UN Broadband Commission for Development, and an SDG Advocate for UN Secretary General António Guterres. From 2001-18, Sachs served as Special Advisor to UN Secretaries-General Kofi Annan (2001-7), Ban Ki-moon (2008-16), and António Guterres (2017-18).

Prof. Sachs has also authored and edited the following books:
- To Move the World: JFK’s Quest for Peace (2013)
- The Age of Sustainable Development (2015)
- Building the New American Economy: Smart, Fair & Sustainable (2017)
- A New Foreign Policy: Beyond American Exceptionalism (2018)
Prof. Sachs is the 2022 recipient of the Tang Prize in Sustainable Development and was the co-recipient of the 2015 Blue Planet Prize, the leading global prize for environmental leadership. He was twice named among Time magazine’s 100 most influential world leaders. Sachs has received 42 honorary doctorates, and his recent awards include the 2022 Tang Prize in Sustainable Development, the Legion of Honor by decree of the President of the Republic of France, and the Order of the Cross from the President of Estonia.

September, 2023