

THERE ARE OVER 1.8 BILLION YOUNG PEOPLE TODAY

CLOSE TO 90 PER CENT LIVE IN DEVELOPING COUNTRIES

HOW SHOULD THE POST-2015 AGENDA INCORPORATE THEIR PRIORITIES?

BREAKFAST SIDE EVENT AT FOURTH SESSION OF THE OPEN WORKING GROUP

18 JUNE 2013 8:15 - 9:30 AM CONFERENCE ROOM 4 NORTH LAWN BUILDING UN

This event is a platform for amplifying the voices of the world's 1.8 billion adolescents and youth and identifying how best to position their human rights and development needs at the centre of discussions on issues of education and culture, employment, social protection, health and population dynamics. Drawing on the outcomes of recent consultative processes, including My World 2015, the ICPD Beyond 2014 Global Youth Forum and national post-2015 consultations, a high-level inter-generational panel will identify the way forward for the world's largest generation of young people to shape the future they want.

KATE GILMORE

Deputy Executive Director (Programmes) UNFPA

AHMAD ALHENDAWI

UN Secretary-General's Envoy on Youth (@AhmadAlhendawi)

SAMUEL KISSI

Youth Leadership Working Group (@SammyKissi)

VICTORIA FORSGATE

Post-2015 Children and Youth Working Group (@VictoriaFors)

H.E. MR PALITHA KOHONA

Ambassador and Permanent Representative of Sri Lanka

DIEGO PALACIOS JARAMILLO

Executive Coordinator, Post-2015 Agenda UNFPA

Breakfast will be served on the First Floor across from the West Delegates Lounge prior to the event
www.unfpa.org | youth@unfpa.org | @UNFPA | #UNFPAYouth | www.facebook.com/UNFPA